

Interior Photography Shoot Guide

When shooting interior photographs it is important to ensure that the space is smart and presentable. This should be the first step in achieving high quality shots that sell your hotel, property or office space.

This can be simply be a case of re positioning furniture and dusting down tops, but might require more elaborate ideas such as repainting and laying new floors depending on the results you are hoping to achieve.

“ Using a mixture of flash light and Natural Light will help produce a contemporary feeling ”

“Showing Space where possible will help create a more inspiring image ”

Photographs can be created in a dynamic and contemporary fashion, but will always be look better if some simple steps have been taken beforehand with the actual room itself.

Our photography team will help you on the day of the shoot, and can sometimes visit for a pre shoot meeting if required to ensure everything is as organised as possible for the shoot date.

On the day of the shoot our team will work with a variation of photographic equipment studio lights and natural lighting and look for the best angles and oppourtunities to capture images which fulfill your brief and wow your audience.

“Selecting small details can enhance a collection of interior photographs ”

Please call studio8 on 01865 842525 to discuss your next interior photography project.

or email: info@studio-8.com

www.studio-8.com/photography